

NEW EXHIBITION WORLD PREMIERE IN FLANDERS EXPO

In March 1994 a new exhibition will be held in Flanders Expo, Gent (Belgium), which relates directly to one of the great issues of our time; concern for the environment. Under the name of ExploRisk 94 it will be the first International Exhibition on Explosion Protection and Related Risk Control.

ExploRisk 94 will meet a real need in this branch; gathering all parties offering something in the field of explosion safety and risk control and potential users wanting an overall view of the market supply.

This international exhibition appeals to companies producing, treating, storing, selling and transporting explosion hazardous gasses, vapours, powders and of course explosives. ExploRisk also appeals to commissioners involved in civil constructions such as tunnels, bridges and administrative buildings, where the transport of dangerous goods and/or the danger of terrorist attacks can seriously affect the design. Finally ExploRisk aims at all responsible authorities in the broadest sense of the word, such as certifying bodies, factory inspectors, fire brigades, official bodies, safety organizations and insurance companies.

ExploRisk focuses on four subjects;

- * electro-mechanics and electronics; Ex-devices and systems
- * material handling and logistics; apparatus and equipment for transport and handling of goods in hazardous areas, such as cleaning machines, forklift trucks, reachtrucks and lorries
- * plant/process safety; apparatus and systems for preventive or post-operative protection against internal explosions (explosion venting devices, arresting devices and explosion suppression systems); process apparatus protected against explosions (filters, dryers, etc.); systems to protect against external explosions
- * services; technical and legal consulting bureaus, institutions which deal with scientific research and certification, safety organizations, insurance companies, etc.

ExploRisk 94 is an initiative of Europex, European Information Centre for Explosion Protection, an international, non-profit organization with scientific objectives. In the eight years of its existence, through its initiatives Europex has obtained a worldwide reputation as a unique organization.
